

Your wedding day at Oakwood House

Tucked away in several acres of parkland, Oakwood House is a charming place to spend your special day. Add to this its convenient location in Maidstone and you can expect practicality as well as tranquility.

From experienced staff and elegant rooms to exquisite menus and newly refurbished accommodation, you can be sure we've got every element of your wedding covered.

Your wedding co-ordinator

Because we have years of experience with weddings, we understand that your special day is one of the most important in your life. As such, we are committed to ensuring that everything is exactly as you want it to be. From making your booking to the big day itself, you will have a dedicated wedding co-ordinator who will guide you through each step of the way.

"We were so impressed with the service given – I don't think we could have found a finer venue."

Your ceremony

A licensed venue for civil marriages and partnerships, Oakwood House offers a choice of rooms to suit individual requirements. Vows can be exchanged in the Garden Suite which overlooks the West Lawn and adjoins the Morning Room to accommodate parties of up to 100 people, or in the John Wigan Room for ceremonies with up to 300 guests. Alternatively, the oak panelled Study and Victorian Billiard Room can also be used for ceremonies. If an outdoor venue charms you however, why not get married on the veranda which backs onto the stunning gardens?

Whichever you choose, you'll experience a personal ceremony that brings to life the very day you've been extensively planning.

"The staff were really helpful, everything went wonderfully with very good food and drink served in a beautiful setting with lovely rooms."

Your reception drinks

In a spectacular atrium setting in the heart of the building, the fully licensed Courtyard Bar offers a light and spacious area for reception drinks. On warmer days, these can of course be enjoyed on the West Lawn or veranda – excellent spots to capture great photographs.

Your wedding breakfast

Under the direction of our experienced team and head chef, we are committed to serving a range of the finest foods and drink to suit every palate and budget.

Using fresh local produce, our chefs offer a choice of dishes, including imaginative vegetarian options and alternatives for guests with special dietary needs so that you can create the perfect wedding menu. We also provide a children's package, the Acorn Selection, for younger guests

Your evening reception

Because we know your evening reception is as important as the ceremony itself, we have an extensive food and drinks list which can be served in a number of elegant rooms, including smaller private dining areas for the most intimate of parties. Menus can even be tailored to suit your needs, from medieval banquets and oriental feasts to hog roasts and barbecues.

Your wedding entertainment

While we have our own resident DJ in house, we welcome couples to choose entertainment that suits their personal tastes, whether it's a swing band, tribute act or something more out of the ordinary. We have an entertainment license until 12.30am.

Your wedding night at Oakwood House

If the ambience of a Victorian mansion isn't enough to evoke a sense of romance, our honeymoon suite certainly will. An idyllic place to spend your wedding night, the suite comes complete with a king size four-poster bed, sitting room, dressing room and an en-suite bathroom boasting dual wash basins, a spa bath and separate shower.

In addition to our honeymoon suite, we have also refurbished our remaining 39 bedrooms giving enhanced facilities for the comfort of your guests.

Either a full English or Continental breakfast is included in the cost of your stay.
